"The test of truth in life is not whether we can remember what we learned in school, but whether we are prepared for change."

Andreas Schleicher- Director for Education and Skills OECD

The rapid changes, which characterize the times we live, impose a considerable challenge to the educational systems around the world. As questions and concerns about unprecedented social and economic challenges became increasingly urgent, these systems need to consider developing education for the best future carefully. The Educational System must perceive the Professional Development of their Educators as a main field in which to invest.

Focusing on the importance of ongoing professional development aimed to successfully change their practices to lead to meaningful change in learning outcomes; educators need they to be encouraged to view themselves as change actors facing new challenges and opportunities to trained through institutional support.

Topics include:

- Presentation of diverse forms of training and adaptation to changes in the educational system; including latest concepts, methods, and tools for educational staff training
- Analysis of different modules for educators training and defined training goals
- Design of integrative teaching/learning units
- Presentation of additional resources for self-development and enrichment
- Examination of the principal's role as school leader, including a discussion of teamwork, creating a school vision, school budgets and administration, and empowerment of teachers
- Provision of setting up support systems such as pedagogical centers for facilitators and teachers
- Practice for motivating and empowering teachers and improving pedagogical skills:
  - Self-reliance, self-learning, and self-evaluation
  - Teaching skills and tools for implementing curricula
  - Networking with other teachers and educators to enhance knowledge and broaden views and ideas
- Analysis of role and place of educational staff in national development
- Staff leadership, management, and professional development
- Frameworks and methods for using the Internet and ICT in education

Another main point to consider is the position of the educators as role models in a dynamic and social process where individuals alone, or in collaboration, to build up the educators' skills to act upon these aspects by transforming ideas into practical and targeted activities, whether in a social, cultural or economic context.

Aims

- To provide new tools and knowledge on the implementation and development of educators professional aspects.
- To provide frameworks as an answer to the differences between the teaching staff, between the different professions and allow each teaching staff to choose the learning path that suits them
- To create tools for communication, collaboration and team work.
- To provide educational tools for quality innovative educational pedagogies.
- To support the integration and the implementation of 21st century education skills.
- To present innovative teaching methods for specific subject matters (science, language, etc.), as well as interdisciplinary subject areas, enabling participants to choose the methods and tools suitable to the particular needs of their environments.

Methodology

- Lectures and discussions led by experts in various fields.
- Workshops.
- Analysis of educational planning through written material and professional visits.
- Meetings with institutional administrators and acquaintance with projects at the national and regional level.
- Simulations, panel discussions, and group work.
- Preparation of final projects by individuals or groups, based on the professional interests of participants.
- Study tours at: different types of schools at all levels, educational centers (science, art, etc.) and teacher training institutions and pedagogical resource centers

About MASHAV

MASHAV - Israel's Agency for International Development Cooperation-Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Israel is dedicated to providing developing countries with the best of Israel's experience in development and planning. As a member of the family of nations, The State of Israel is committed to fulfilling its responsibility to contribute to the fight against poverty and to the global efforts to achieve sustainable development. MASHAV, representing Israel and its people, focuses its efforts on capacity building, sharing relevant expertise accumulated during Israel's own development experience to empower governments, communities, and individuals to improve their own lives.

MASHAV's approach is to ensure social, economic and environmentally sustainable development, and it is taking an active part in the international community's process of shaping the Post-2015 Agenda, to define the new set of the global Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

MASHAV's activities focus primarily on areas in which Israel has a competitive advantage, including agriculture and rural development; water resources management; entrepreneurship and innovation; community development; medicine and public health, empowerment of women and education. Professional programs are based on a "train the trainers" approach to institutional and human capacity building and are conducted both in Israel and abroad. The seconding of short and long-term experts as well as on-site interventions supports project development. Since its establishment, MASHAV has promoted the centrality of human resource enrichment and institutional capacity building in the development process - an approach which has attained global consensus.

About METC - A. Ofri Mashav Educational Training Center

A. Ofri Mashav Educational Training Center, was established in 1989 as a professional extension of MASHAV - Israel's Agency for International Development Cooperation-Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Israel. The activities are targeted to meet the Millennium Development Sustainable Goals-SDGS set by the United Nations to be fulfilled by the year 2030.

The Center's vision is that education is the starting point for a person to build himself/herself, a gate to new possibilities. Education is the key to a better future and shields against physical harm and confronts moral dilemmas. Education enables us to ask for proper healthcare when needed, and the way to stay healthy and adopt responsible behavior with our bodies. Education is sharing, learning, and growing up together with others. Through education we can learn to take better care of our world, treat it respectfully and use wisely the resources it offers us. Education concerns itself with learning at all levels, from elementary and secondary school through adult education, and provides knowledge and training for basic skills development, civic awareness, community education, education for special populations, treatment for youth (Including those at risk), youth integration, youth leadership, education for health and the prevention of drugs abuse.

Since its inception, METC has trained thousands of professionals from countries throughout the world. The Center cooperates with senior staff in the Israeli Ministry of Education, academic experts, governmental organizations, and non-governmental organizations. In addition, it communicates and cooperates with key international organizations such as UNESCO, OECD, USAID, UNODC, OAS, IOM and the World Bank. In adopting the UN's Millennium Development Goals, the A. Ofri Center contributes to the sustainable development of human resources internationally, based on knowledge and experience accumulated in Israel.
